

Enteral Nutrition Nurse Survey

The nutrition department is collecting information about nursing protocols related to enteral feeding in order to understand what goes on at the bedside. The survey should only take a few minutes. Your help would be greatly appreciated!

When tube feedings would be held?

How often do you check gastric residuals?

At what amount of gastric residuals are tube feedings held?

Do you feel residual volumes accurately represent gastric volume? Why?

Do you refeed residuals?

What amount of residuals do you refeed?

Do you know about the critical care guide for enteral nutrition?

Do you know how to access the critical care guidelines?

What nutrition information would help you be more successful?
